When you forgive
someone, you let
yourself off
the hook.
